

BUILDING

Alistair Christey – Henderson Building

Alistair gained a building apprenticeship with his Gateway Employer when he finished the programme in 2008. He spent one day every week working with his employer, gaining practical skills and experiencing the ‘real life’ world of work. The building industry have a Gateway Programme for students to work on which gives them a head start on their apprenticeship while still at school.